HE'S STUCK ON HER

Why a Saginaw Man Neglects His Wife.

SHE MARRIED A YOUNG MAN

And New Has Him Juiled Because He Was Too Intimate With a Gray-Haired Woman.

Sagnaw, Mich., July 11 .- C. S. Harris, who operates a sawmill at Burt, and Mrs. Mary Odell, a middle-aged boarding-house keeper of this city, were both arrested this morning on complaint of Mr. Harris' wife, who lives in Flint, on a charge of adultery. Pending examnation, both were locked up.

Mrs. Harris, who looks ten years older than her good looking husband, claims he left her some time ago, hav-ing $2,700 of her money which he used to operate his mill and that he com-mitted adultery at divers times and places with Mrs. Odell.

"He's stuck on her," she said, "and she's a gray haired woman with no beauty at that."

LITTLE GIRL ASSAULTED. James Harrison Charged With a Heinous

Crime. DETROIT, July 11 .- James Harrison. who has been confined in the Gratiot avenue police station since last Friday, is charged with a felonious assault upon Bertha, the 12-year-old daughter of William Hettner, who kepta saloon and boarding house on the corner of An-toine and Champlain streets. Harrison came to Detroit last February from the west, out of work, and boarded with Mr. Hettner until he obtained a job. In May, Hettner went out of the business and moved with his family, consisting of a wife and four children, to No. 77 Sherman street. The boarder went with them. After going out of business Hestner went to work at Goebel's brew-ery, and as his wife was sick, Bertha, his eldest daughter, was left alone with

Last Friday noon, when the father came nome to dinner, Mrs. Barbara Michenfelder, Hettner's neighbor, said that Harrison had whipped the children and was trying to make the eldest boy drunk. Upon entering the house, Hettner found the story true, it is al-leged, and becoming enraged he chas-tised Harrison severely and threw him into the street. One of the roomers up stairsethen told Hettner of several ious circumstances in regard to Hettner's relations with Bertha. The matter was investigated and Hettner became convinced that his oldest child had been criminally assaulted. A po-liceman was notified and Harrison was arrested. The daughter is said to have owned up that she had been assaulted. Harrison will not be arrainged until the result of the girl's injuries is known.

Diseased Cattle Slaughtered.

DETROIT, July 11 .- The car of disand cattle which arrived in this city a week ago and were quarantined at King's cattle yards, were finally slaughtered yesterday after having been a menace to the health of cattle in the city for a week. There were twenty-two head of them slaughtered. Only eight were condemned. The conworks and the rest will be sold at the markets here. The car was shipped by one Balling from Kansas City and was the laws and cannot be prosecuted. He telegraphed on to the inspector to dis-pose of the cattle as best he could. It was after this understanding with the owner that the cattle were killed.

Bruised by a Bull.

DETROIT, July 11.—En Haley, who lives on the Dendle farm, corner of Mabury avenue and the railroad track, was attacked in his barn by a young Jersey bull, which twice hursed him against the side of a stall with great lence. The bull was making for Haley again when he managed to get out of the barn and climbed over a fence. He then swooned from ex-haustion and was found lying on the ground insensible some time later by a number of laborers who picked him up and carried him into the house. Four of Haley's ribs were fractured, while his back is fearfully bruised.

Michigan Millers' Meeting.

Lansino, July 11.—The Michigan Millers' association will convene here Thursday, July 14, for its mid-summer meeting. The most important subject for consideration will be that of a tri-state association composed of Michigan, Onto and Indiana societies. Other subjects are: An effort to secure a special freight classification for grain and its products; asking the legislature to de-fine the hability of telegraph compa-nies in certain cases; Michigan's exhibit at the world's fair. The secretary will read a paper upon what he knows about the methods of "wild cat" insurance companies.

Physical Wreck's Life Ends.

Dersort, July 11.-William Biack of 170 Woodbridge street was taken suddenly ill Saturday evening and died in great pain at 7 o'clock yesterday morn-ing. The suddeness of his death led to suspicion that he had met with foul play and Coroner Downs was asked to look into the case. An inves-tigation showed that Black had died of rupture of the bowels and that he was a physical wreck from the excessive use of alcohol and other causes. An inquest will be held on tomorrow morning at

Changed Her Mind,

DETROIT, July 11 .- Mrs. Annie Free-man, who claimed to have been greviously assaulted a couple of weeks ago by Hackman Michael O'Donnell at the dence of his mother on Beech street, appeared at the police court this morning and in an affidavit endeavored to set forth that she was not sure whether O Dounell belabored her with a board. She wanted to have the complaint withdrawn, but Justice Sheahan decided to aujourn the case, to give Mrs. Freeman a chance to change her mind

Flying Roller's Exit.

Dersort, July 11.—John Stoneman, the flying roller who some weeks ago was enticed into Louis B. Guau's north side saloon, where he requived a free hair out and snampoo, died at Buffalo Saturday morning, where he went shortly after the hair-cutting cere-mony. His death was not the result of hard usage at the hands of the "fake" barbers, but was cause by consumption, from which he had long been a suf-

Our climate, which is rather a trying one, because of its dryness, for women as they grow older, seems to give a wonderfully ripe charm to girls in their first bloom. As in the sharp and severe New England, the women of our high mountain altitudes are apt to grow thin and angular as they lose the first plumpness of girlhood. The nervous energy our bracing air evolves is an absorbent of flesh. We have been brought to see that this is a thing to be regretted by the marvelous improvement which Cali fornia, that land of physical perfection works in our women, when they go there, worn out and worked out, for a few weeks of rest and regalement. They come back with freshened complexions and twenty or thirty pounds of newly acquired and most becoming fiesh.

Our girls, however, lose by any change of climate. This is their paradise, and they take on hourly before your eyes a "Peachy looking" is the word which best describes them, with that curve of outline and a bloom and coloring which makes them simply delicious. Ours is a country of blond women. It is remarkably, almost as-tonishingly, so. The famous Young family have hair as yellow as a baby's first soft curls, and they keep it until they are forty and over. It goes with dark lashes and brows, an unusual natural combination which art never tires of simulating. This family take on a comfortable and becoming embonpoint as they grow older, and one charm which lasts until the end is their pretty hands of white and dimpled grace.
